of this place and of Mary his wife who was of the Antient & Eminent family of Northamptonshire, having been introduced early in Business and passed through many of the inferiour offices of Government with great Reputation & eminent Capacity
He was at last
By his Majesty's happy choice & the universal approbation of his Country advanced to the Council. His experience in men & business the native gravity & dignity of his person & behaviour
his attachment to the interests of his Country knowledge of the laws in general & of the laws & constitution of this Colony in particular his integrity above all Calumny or suspicion
the acuteness of his parts & the extensiveness of his genius together with the solidity of sense & judgment which was ever predominant in all he said or did—rendered him not only equal but an ornament to the high office he bore & had made him universally lamented as a most able and impartial judge & as an upright & useful magistrate. In all other respects neither was he less conspicuous for a certain Majestic plainness of sense & honour which carried him through all parts of private life with an equal dignity & reputation & deservedly obtained him the character of a just good man in all the severall dutys & relations of life. Natus Novr. 1681. Mortuus Oct. 19, 1742

11. SUSANNA⁸ BEVERLEY (Peter,⁹ Robert,¹) youngest daughter, born —; died —; married Sir John Randolph, of Williamsburg (son of Colonel William Randolph, the elder, of "Turkey Island") who was born 1693, died March 9, 1737. He was educated at William and Mary College, Gray's Inn, and The Temple; and after finishing his legal studies in England returned to Virginia, settled in Williamsburg (though he had estates in Gloucester, where he was at one time County Lieutenant), and at an early age was appointed Attorney General of Virginia. He represented William and Mary College in the House of Burgesses, and in 1730, while visiting England, it is said to obtain a renewal of the College charter, he was knighted. In 1736 he was chosen Speaker of the House of Burgesses and Treasurer, and in the same year, the first recorder of the new borough of Norfolk. Sir John seems to have been considered to have been at the head of the bar in his day, and to have been generally regarded as a man of great talents and acquirements. His nephew, William Stith, says that he (Randolph) intended to write a preface to the laws of Virginia, "and therein to give an historical account of our Constitution and government, but was prevented from prosecuting it into effect by his many and weighty public employments and by the vast burden of private business from his clients." Stith made use of the materials his uncle had collected.

The following obituary notice of Sir John appeared in The Virginia Gazette for the week ending March 11, 1736-7:

"WILLIAMSBURG, March 11.—On Monday last, the Hon. Sir John Randolph, Knt., Speaker of the House of Burgesses, Treasurer of this Colony, and Representative for William and Mary College, was interred in the Chapel of the said College. He was (according to his own Directions) carried from his House to the Place of Interment, by Six honest, industrious, poor House-keepers of Bruton Parrish; who are to have Twenty Pounds divided among them: And the Rev. Mr. Dawson, one of the Professors of that College, pronounced a Funeral Oration in Latin. His Corps was attended by a very numerous Assembly of Gentlemen and others, who paid the last Honours to him, with great Solemnity, Decency, and Respect. He was in the 44th Year of his Age.

"He was a Gentleman of one of the best Families in this Country. Altho' what Livy says of the Romans, soon after the Foundation of their City, be very applicable to us here (in novo populo, ubi omnis repentina nobilitas fit,) yet his family was of no mean Figure in England, before it was transplanted hither. Sir THOMAS RANDOLPH was of a Collateral Branch, which had the Honour, in several important Embassies, to serve Q. ELIZABETH, one of the wisest Princes that ever sat on an English Throne, very nice and difficult, and happy, even to a Proverb, in the Choice of her Ministers. Among these, Sir Thomas made no inconsiderable Figure, and is acknowledged to have been a Man of great Parts and Ability, and every Way equal to the Emploiments which he bore. Mr. THOMAS Randolph, the poet, was great Uncle to Sir JOHN. An immature Death put a Stop to his rising Genius and Fame ; but he had gained such a Reputation among the Wits of his age, that he was exceedingly lamented ; And Ben Johnson always expressed his Love and Esteem for him, calling him by no other Title, but that of Son. The family were high Loyalists, in the Civil Wars, and being entirely broken and dispersed, Sir JOHN's father resolved (as many other Cavaliers did) to take his Fortune in this Part of the World.

" By his Mother's side, he was related to the Ishams of Northamptonshire, an ancient and eminent Family of that County.

" Sir JOHN discovered, from his earliest Childhood, a great Propensity to Letters. To improve which, he was first put under the Care of a Protestant Clergyman, who came over among the French Refugees. But afterwards he received a fuller and more complete Education in William and Mary College ; for which Place (with a Gratitude usual to Persons who make a proper use of the Advantages, to be reached in such Seminaries) he always expressed the greatest Love and Respect not only in Words, but by doing real and substantial Services. He finished his Studies, in the Law, in Grays' Inn, and the Temple, and having put on his Barrister's Gown, returned to his Native Country ; where from his very first appearance at the Bar, he was ranked among the Practitioners of the first Figure and Distinction.

" His Parts were bright and strong, his learning extensive and useful. If he was liable to any Censure in this Respect, it was for too great a Luxuriancy and Abundance ; and what Quintilian says of Ovid, may, with great Propriety, be applied to him : Quantum vir ille praestare potuerit, si ingenio suo temperare quam indulgre moluisset?

" In the several Relations of a Husband, a Father, a Friend, he was a most extraordinary Example ; being a kind and affectionate Husband, without Fondness or Ostentation ; a tender and indulgent Parent, without Weakness or Folly; a sincere and hearty Friend, without Profession or Flattery. Sincerity indeed, ran through the whole Course of his Life, with an even and uninterrupted Current ; and added no small Beauty and Lustre to his Character, both in Private and Publick.

" As he received a noble Income, for Services in his Profession and Empliements, so he, in some Measure, made a Return, by a most generous, open, and elegant Table. But the Plenty, Conduct, and Hospitality which appeared there, reflect an equal Praise on himself and his Lady.

" Altho' he was an excellent Father of a Family, and careful enough in his own private Concerns, yet he was even more attentive to what regarded the Interest of the Publick. His Sufficiency and Integrity, his strict Justice and Impartiality, in the Discharge of his Offices, are above Commendation, and beyond all reasonable Contradiction. Many of us May deplore a private Friend ; but what I think all ought to lament, is the Loss of a publick Friend ; an Assertor of the just Rights and natural Liberties of Mankind ; an Enemy to Oppression; a Support to the Distressed; and a Protector of the Poor and indigent, whose cause he willingly undertook, and whose Fees he constantly remitted, when he thought the Paiment of them would be grievous to themselves or Families. In short, he always pursued the Publick Good, as far as his judgment would carry him ; which, as it was not infallible, so it may, without Disparagement to any, be placed among the best, that have ever been concerned in the Administration of the Affairs of this Colony.

"The following Particular may perhaps be thought trifling. However I cannot help observing, that all these accomplishments received an additional Grace and Ornament from his Person; which was of the finest Turn imaginable. He had to an eminent Degree, that ingenua totius corporis pulchritudo & quidam senatorius decor, which Pliny mentions, and which is somewhere not unhappily translated, 'The Air of a Man of Quality.' For there was something very Great and Noble in his Presence and Deportment, which at first Sight bespoke and highly became, that Dignity and Eminence, which his Merit had obtained him in this country."

The Virginia Gazette of April 20, 1739, says: "A beautiful Monument of curious Workmanship, in Marble, was lately erected in the Chapel of the College of William and Mary, to the Memory of Sir John Randolph, Knight, who was interred there ; and which has the following inscription upon it :

Sir John and Susanna (Beverley) Randolph had issue: (1) John, Attorney-General of Virginia, and father of Edmund Randolph; (2) Peyton, first President of Congress; (3) Beverley; (4) Mary, married Philip Grymes, of "Brandon," Middlesex.

13. WILLIAM³ BEVERLEY (Robert,² Robert¹), born about 1698; died in or before 1766; lived at "Blandfield," Essex county, which he built, and which still remains. He was clerk of Essex 1716-'45; member of the House of Burgesses from Orange 1736 (Virginia Historical Register, III), and from Essex 1744, 1745, 1748, 1751, and doubtless in other years [Journals of Burgesses, and Burk's Virginia III]. In 1741 he was appointed county lieutenant of Orange and Augusta counties [Waddell's Augusta County], and in 1751 was appointed to the Council. Colonel William Beverley married Elizabeth (born May 29th, 1706) daughter of Richard Bland, of "Jordon's Point," Prince George county [Bland Papers]. Besides various patents of several thousand acres each, he, with Sir John Randolph, Richard Randolph and John Robinson, obtained on September 6, 1736, a grant of 118,490 acres, "called the Mannor of Beverley," in Orange county. This great tract, more commonly known as "Beverley Manor," was situated in the present Augusta county, and appears, from the deeds on record in Augusta, to have belonged chiefly to William Beverley. Beverley Manor is still the name of a district in Augusta county.

Letters written by Colonel William Beverley have been printed in the Calendar of Virginia State Papers, Vol. I, and in the William and Mary Quarterly for July, 1895.

William Beverley's will is not on record in Essex or Orange counties. If he made one it was probably recorded in the General Court, and has now been destroyed.

Issue: 24. Robert;⁴ 25. Ursula;⁴ 26. Elizabeth,⁴ married James Mills; 27. Anne.⁴

14. ELIZABETH³ BEVERLEY (Harry,² Robert,¹) "baptized by Mr. Gray at Esquire Wormeley's, 9th November, 1697;" married (his second wife) August 18, 1717 (Register of Ch. Church, Middlesex), William Stanard, born February 15, 1682, died December 3d, 1732 (son of William Stanard, of Middlesex Co., and his wife, Eltonhead, widow of Henry Thacker, and daughter of Edwin Conway and Martha Eltonhead, his wife, W. S. and E. T. were married about 1676) Clerk of Middlesex 1704-'32. There is recorded in Middlesex a letter, dated "King & Queen, 17th April, 1704," from Chichley Corbin Thacker, Deputy Secretary of the Colony, to the Court of Middlesex, stating "That I need not tell you of my sorrow for the death of your late clerk," and thanking them for recommending to the Governor, his brother, William Stanard, to succeed his brother, Edwin Thacker, as clerk. There is also recorded the commission, dated September 20, 1716, (signed by William Cocke, Secretary of State), of William Stanard, Gent., as Clerk; and a power of attorney, dated May 16, 1716, from William Stanard, of Middlesex, Gent., intending to go to England. In the Sainsbury Abstracts it appears that "Mr. William Stanheard, clerk of one of the county courts," was in London in 1716, and was one of the persons who testified before the Board of Trade and Plantation in regard to tobacco. He died intestate, and on July 3d, 1733, administration was granted to his widow Elizabeth, with Rev. Bartholomew Yates and Edwin Thacker as securities. On July 12, 1733, the Court of Caroline county ordered that John Gibson, Robert Key, and Richard and John Taliaferro appraise the estate, in that county, of William Stanard, gentleman, deceased. In Spotsylvania county, July 3d, 1733, the court, on motion of Beverley Winslow, gent., in behalf of Mrs. Elizabeth Stanard, administratrix of William Stanard, deceased, late of Middlesex county, for the appraisement of said decedent's estate in Spotsylvania, it was so ordered and the appraisers reported that they met at "the plantation of Mr. William Stanard, deceased, and appraised all such personal estate as was shown to them at the lower quarter in this county"; including eight negroes, &c., valued at £195. 4. 2.

Mrs. Elizabeth Stanard died 1747. Her will is as follows:

In the name of God amen.

I Elizabeth Stanard widow of the Parish of Christ church and county of Middlesex being in perfect sense and memory.

Knowing the uncertainty of human life and being willing that my worldly estate which it hath pleased God to bless me with, should be disposed of in such manner after my decease as I shall hereafter direct, Do make this my last will and testament in manner and form following, viz:

Imprimis. I do bequeath my soul to God in hopes of a joyful resurrection unto eternal life through the merits and intercession of my dear redeemer and Saviour Jesus Christ, my body to the earth from whence it came to be buried in such manner as my ex'or hereafter named shall think proper.

Item. My will is that all my just debts and funeral expenses be first paid and discharged.

Item. I desire that none of my estate be appraised.

Item. I give unto my dear son Beverly Stanard all my tract of land in Spotsylvania county called and known by the name of Stanford he paying to each of my daughters Elizabeth and Sarah one hundred pounds Current money apiece at the expiration of six years after my decease, and my will and meaning is that if my said son should refuse to pay my two daughters the said sum before mentioned at said expiration of the said six years, then I give the said land to my two daughters to be equally divided between them.

Item. I give unto my dear son Beverly Stanard all the rest of my estate, he paying each of my daughters a negro girl of nine years old at my decease.

Item. I constitute and appoint my loving son Beverley Stanard executor of this my last will and testament. In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand this 19th day of April, 1745.

ELIZA. STANARD.

Signed and declared to be her last will and testament in the presence of us. Randolph Segar. Ann Segar.

At a court held for Middlesex county on Tuesday the 7th day of July, 1747.

This will was proved by the oaths of Randolph Segar and Ann Segar the witnesses thereto and ordered to be recorded. And the within named Beverly Stanard having taken the oath of an executor, certificate is granted him for obtaining a probat in due form.
